DAYTIME COURSES IN MAIDENHEAD AUTUMN 2019

★ LITERATURE: CLASH OF VALUES
John Still

We shall discuss some enjoyable and challenging literary works. In the autumn we will consider two novels and some poetry by Wordsworth and Byron. In The Portrait of a Lady Henry James portrays many themes, including tensions between American and European values, the power of money, the problem of making choices, and the theme of illusion and reality. Alice Walker’s The Color Purple is about an African American woman who survives abuse and develops her understanding of friendship, love, religion, and equality. After Christmas we will consider Arthur Miller’s A View from the Bridge, a tragedy about obsessional love and issues of honour, justice and ‘family’. We will also discuss some short stories by Claire Keegan, and T. S. Eliot’s Four Quartets. Eliot’s poem explores the spirit of place; the roles of air, earth, water and fire; the beauty of the four seasons; and experiences of loss and renewal. N.B. No meetings on 7 October (study day), 21 October and 10 February (study day). Last meetings 9 December and 30 March. Students may enrol for one term only if there is space.

20 meetings on Mondays, starting 16 Sept and 13 January  Fee: £180
Venue: St Joseph’s Centre, Cookham Road, SL6 7EG. Time: 10:00 to 12:00

★ AN INTRODUCTION TO MEDIEVAL ART
Dalila Castelijn

A wealth of painting, sculpture, architecture, manuscripts and stained glass emerged from Europe in the two hundred years from 1150. The study of these works will form the basis of this course. The church and courts provided the patronage for many of these works, which were often made for devotional purposes, displaying great skill and delicacy in their manufacture. Many artefacts, featuring the use of gold, precious stones and intricate carving, have survived to the present day, and can be seen in museums such as the Victoria and Albert Museum. If students agree, a visit could be incorporated as part of the course. N.B. Last meeting 3 December.

10 meetings on Tuesdays, starting 24 September  Fee: £90
Venue: St Joseph’s Centre, Cookham Road, SL6 7EG. Time: 10:00 to 12:00

★ GLOBALISATION AND ITS DISCONTENTS: HOW CAN WE MAKE SENSE OF THE CONTEMPORARY WORLD?
Stephen Wilkinson

This course examines the changes that have taken place in global economics and politics since the end of the Cold War, that are often summed up in the concept of globalisation. Topics covered will include the collapse of the Soviet Union, the era of US predominance, the liberal world order, post-colonialism, the terrorist threat, humanitarian intervention, the rise of China and the development of the EU. The course asks: what is globalisation and does it have a future post-Brexit and after Trump? N.B. Last meeting 19 November.

7 meetings on Tuesdays, starting 1 October  Fee: £63
Venue: St Joseph’s Centre, Cookham Road, SL6 7EG. Time: 13:30 to 15:30

★ © ◊ — See Concessionary Fees, page 11.
READING LATIN LITERATURE (5)
Steve Kershaw
Aimed at people who already have a pretty secure grasp of the fundamentals of Latin and would like to read some classic Roman texts in their original language, this course will focus initially on the first book of Ovid’s Metamorphoses. This describes his marvellous account of the Flood, Python, and the myths of Apollo and Daphnis, and Io. Discussions will extend beyond the nuances of language into fascinating aspects of Roman thought, religion, society and history. Students should have a reasonable working knowledge of all the major grammatical and syntactical constructions in Latin, and the course will be conducted in a light-hearted yet rigorous way.

N.B. No meetings 2 October, 6 and 20 November. Last meeting 18 December.

10 meetings on Wednesdays, starting 18 September  Fee: £185
Venue: St Joseph’s Centre, Cookham Road, SL6 7EG. Time: 10:15 to 12:15

NUTRITION AND HEALTH: SCIENCE, FOOD AND MARKETING
John Fletcher
The study of human nutrition includes aspects of biology, medicine, sociology, economics and more. The intention is to provide information and insights that will help students navigate the nutrition maze. Students will be introduced to the basics of nutrition science and the methods used to investigate the relationship between what we eat and our health. It will discuss how food manufacturers, government and the media respond to developments in nutrition science and how nutrition-related health messages are devised, regulated and delivered. The course will help students to understand better, and to evaluate critically, the information and advice concerning nutrition, food and health that they may see or receive in their everyday lives.

N.B. Last meeting 21 November.

8 meetings on Thursdays, starting 26 September  Fee: £72
Venue: St Joseph’s Centre, Cookham Road, SL6 7EG. Time: 10:30 to 12:30
LITERATURE: LOVE, WAR, TEMPTATION AND MENACE
John Still

In the first term we will discuss Shakespeare’s Troilus and Cressida and Harold Pinter’s The Birthday Party. Troilus and Cressida explores the waste and pity of war and the fragility of love. With a mixture of comedy, satire and pathos, the play shows us how self-interest and vanity motivate political leaders. In The Birthday Party failures of communication and mysteries about the background of the characters become increasingly intense. Is the play a parable about the absurdity and cruelty of society? How effectively does Pinter use humour to heighten the menace? After Christmas we will consider Marlowe’s Doctor Faustus and T. S. Eliot’s Murder in the Cathedral. Faustus is torn between seeking forbidden knowledge and repenting. But can he repent? Is Faustus’s tragedy caused by a Calvinist God who has predetermined the hero’s fate? Does Becket’s death create hope for the poor in Canterbury? Or does Becket surrender to the worst temptation, which is to “do the right deed for the wrong reason”? We will explore the clash of values in both plays and appreciate their different kinds of poetry.

N.B. No meeting on 25 October. Last meetings 6 December and 20 March. Students may enrol for one term only if there is space.

20 meetings on Fridays, starting 20 Sept and 10 January Fee: £180
Venue: Friends Meeting House, West St., SL6 1RL. Time: 10:00 to 12:00

ART: LET’S GO TO NORTH AFRICA!
Jo Hall

Inspired by the watercolours of Paul Klee and August Macke, resulting from their famous journey to Tunisia with Louis Moilliet in 1914, we will experiment with shape, colour and simplification sometimes to the point of abstraction. Broadening the scope to North Africa will incorporate countries like Morocco and Egypt, which some of you may have visited. The course will begin with an introduction to watercolour techniques using motifs and patterns from tiles and textiles. It will go on to cover subjects observed by Klee and Macke. These will include deserts, terraces, palm trees, shrines, rocky outcrops; Kasbahs and the animals such as donkeys, camels and chickens and goats. We will also look at markets with spices, leather goods, carpets, silver produce and baskets, Berber villages and towns with mosques. We will update our pictures with items such as satellite dishes, the wearing of trainers and use of mobile phones!

N.B. No meeting on 25 October. Last meeting 29 November.

8 meetings on Fridays, starting 27 September Fee: £90
Venue: St Joseph’s Centre, Cookham Road, SL6 7EG. Time: 10:00 to 12:30
1. Introduction: Islamic Golden Age?
What do we mean when we talk about the Islamic Golden Age? How did it start? How was it manifest? From where did it take its inspiration? And why, more than 700 years after it ended, is it still seen as one of the greatest periods of cultural and intellectual flourishing in human history?

2. All Roads Lead to Baghdad
The birth and development of what would become the world’s greatest medieval city, and the factors that made it so, including the legendary Abbasid Caliph Harun al-Rashid, and Dar al-Hikma … the House of Wisdom.

3. The View from Cordoba, Cairo, and Bukhara
Far from being confined to the city of Baghdad, the Islamic Golden Age saw stunning intellectual and cultural developments away to the west, across North Africa to Andalusia, in modern day Spain and Portugal, and east to Persia and beyond, and in modern day Afghanistan, Pakistan, and India.

4. The Giant’s Shoulders
The traditional end date for the Islamic Golden Age is 1258, when Mongol hordes sacked the city of Baghdad, and ended 500 years of Abbasid rule, but that is not the whole story. Not only would the pursuit of knowledge continue elsewhere in the Islamic world, but the achievements secured during the Islamic Golden Age remain an important part of the intellectual legacy of all humanity.

Monday 7 October 2019, 10:15 to 16:00
Fee: £38
Venue: Norden Farm Centre for the Arts, Altwood Road, SL6 4PF.

Mike Grundy

This course celebrates the design, architecture and art of the latest lines of the London Underground network, focussing on Crossrail and on the earlier Jubilee Line. Leading architects and artists have been engaged in creating both lines as showcases for London and for the latest developments in British design and technology. An overview of their history and design strategies will be followed by a virtual journey studying the design and art of each station in the context of its local history, environment and community. Comparisons with contemporary developments abroad will enrich the scope of the course.

Through an examination of paintings, sculpture and other objects dating from the world of ancient Egypt to the present day, we will discover the magical world of things in art – how was still life used and how did it change? The course will focus particularly on Renaissance art, Spanish and Dutch still life and flower painting from the 17th Century and the experiments of the modern period. Artists to be investigated include Holbein, Jan van Eyck, Velazquez, Claesz, Ruysch, Manet and Picasso.

🌟 ECONOMICS IN THE NEWS
Dick Smethurst

Economics is always in the news, but the papers and television rarely have the space or time to explain properly the differing economic theories and viewpoints which give rise to contested policies. In these sessions we shall discuss topics of current interest, to be selected each week by the class members themselves. Amongst the topics likely to be chosen are: international trade relationships, for example between the UK and Europe or between the USA and China; whether there are adequate defences in place against another financial crisis; whether the NHS should be financed, at least in part, through private insurance; and whether economists have useful contributions to make to the debate on climate change. This course is designed to follow on from previous economics classes, but new members with a lively interest in economics and some acquaintance with economic theory will be welcome.

N.B. Last meeting 10 March. See page 11 for enrolment information.

7 meetings on Tuesdays, starting 21 January
Fee: £70.88
Venue: Methodist Church, Allenby Road, SL6 5BQ.
Time: 13:30 to 15:45
ART OF THE ANCIENT WORLD
Sandra Smith

This study day will introduce some of the great artistic achievements of the ancient world. We will cover 4 separate cultures: Egypt, Mesopotamia, Greece and Rome, through an in-depth investigation of a handful of major art works from those places. We will endeavour to find the similarities and differences between these worlds, investigating how the art was used and what it can tell us about the people who made it.

1. Ancient Egypt
This section will briefly introduce the world-famous Giza pyramids and monuments from the Old Kingdom. The spectacular finds from the tomb of Tutankhamun will also be investigated, alongside the paintings made to decorate the much smaller tombs made for lesser mortals, notably the tombs of Rekhmire and Nebamum.

2. Mesopotamia
Arguably, civilisation began not in Egypt but in the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in modern day Iraq. We will concentrate on art made by the people from this region, known as Mesopotamia. Spectacular art made for the Royal cemeteries at Ur will be explored and the major iron-age monuments associated with the royal palace of Ashurbanipal at Nineveh, including the Lion Hunt sculptures will form a highlight of this hour.

3. Greece
Western art takes as its starting point the classical buildings and sculptures of ancient Greece. This section will explore some of the heights of achievement of these people, including the sculptures from the Parthenon and Temple of Zeus at Olympia, free standing figure sculpture and vase painting in both black figure and red figure styles.

4. Rome
We will finish with an investigation of some of the highlights of ancient Roman artists. We will take a brief look at some of the major structures of the city of Rome, but will concentrate on smaller, more domestic art associated with the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum. This will include some spectacular examples of wall painting and mosaics.

Monday 10 February 2020, 10:15 to 16:00
Fee: £38
Venue: Norden Farm Centre for the Arts, Altwood Road, SL6 4PF.

N.B. Study Day fee includes tea and coffee. See page 12 for lunch arrangements.

Sandra Smith has a BA and MA in Art History and a Certificate in Archaeology. She teaches A Level Art History and has taught adult education classes for fourteen years for the WEA, University of Reading and University of Oxford.
DAYTIME COURSES IN MAIDENHEAD SPRING 2020 (continued)

имв READING ANCIENT GREEK LITERATURE (5)
Steve Kershaw

This course is aimed at those who have (or who have had in the past), a reasonable working knowledge of the fundamentals of the Ancient Greek language and who would like to read some classic Greek texts in the original. We will begin by reading Thucydides’ famous narration of the conflict between the Athenians and Spartans at Sphacteria during the Peloponnesian War, before exploring Plato’s fascinating discussion about the nature of arete in his dialogue Protagoras. In the process of reading these texts we concentrate on securing and developing the key elements of the language, but also explore the world of the Ancient Greeks through an examination of their thought, history, mythology and literature. This will involve a light-hearted yet rigorous exploration of the Greek language and its influence today, and students should anticipate being able to read, understand, and make an informed personal response to the original material.

N.B. Last meeting 18 March.

10 meetings on Wednesdays, starting 8 January Fee: £185
Venue: Methodist Church, Allenby Road, SL6 5BQ. Time: 13:45 to 15:45

имв THE ARCHITECTURE OF FRANCE
Keith Hasted

France has been an extraordinary crossing point in European architecture: Romanesque pilgrimage churches en route to Santiago de Compostela; the Gothic style fanning out from the Île-de-France; Renaissance ideas arriving at Fontainebleau and the Louvre; the Sun King’s Versailles creating envy in Europe’s royal courts; and the Paris of Garnier’s Opéra and Eiffel’s Tower leading on to the twentieth century and Le Corbusier. We will conclude with a look at some of the latest architecture France has to offer.

N.B. Last meeting 25 March.

10 meetings on Wednesdays, starting 15 January Fee: £90
Venue: Methodist Church, Allenby Road, SL6 5BQ. Time: 10:00 to 12:00

grily A HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE
Simon Jones

The course will begin with an overview of the story of English from the earliest records to the present. After that the classes will concentrate on the different periods in the history of English, ending with the present-day language (with a peep into its possible future). We will be discussing texts and examples of language from the time of Bede and Alfred, on through the Middle Ages and the Enlightenment, until today. So far as time allows, we will also deal with dialects (both geographical and social), the spread of English worldwide (including a look at English pidgins), and the relationship of English to other languages. Suggestions for other topics will be welcomed and, if practicable, incorporated into the course.

N.B. Last meeting 2 April.

6 meetings on Thursdays, starting 27th February Fee: £54
Venue: Methodist Church, Allenby Road, SL6 5BQ. Time: 14:00 to 16:00

This course will show you ways of finding and creating interest in scenes that might at first glance look boring. You will study composition, focal point, tone, colour, the weather/light and adding a figure. Subjects will be diverse: from countryside to urban scenes and buildings; man-made structures to people.

N.B. Last meeting 6 March. See page 11 for enrolment information.

Mike Grundy

This course is a journey of discovery through the ground-breaking developments in art and architecture achieved in Berlin and Vienna over the last two traumatic centuries. The architecture trail includes Schinkel’s classical structures of Berlin, through to the famous Bauhaus and Modern Hi-Tech movements. Sandra Smith

What makes a good portrait? Who are the greatest portrait artists? This course will attempt to answer these questions with an investigation of the development of portraits in art from the Renaissance period to the present day. A variety of subjects will be shown, from kings and queens to merchants and muses. Major artists to be included are Leonardo da Vinci, Diego Velazquez, Gian Lorenzo Bernini, Joshua Reynolds, John Singer Sargent and Picasso.

N.B. Last meeting 19 March. See page 11 for enrolment information.

The course will be taught around a series of illustrated presentations, which will allow us to study the many depictions of gardens throughout English history.

N.B. Last meeting 2 June.

EVENING COURSE IN COOKHAM 2019

★ RE-EVALUATING THE RECENT PAST IN FILM
   Wickham Clayton
While some films remain popular and relevant over time, others, even the critically acclaimed, fail to retain interest. This course is designed to look at films, from around the world, that were released in 2001, to great acclaim. We will revisit these films and consider their successes and failures, including the things contemporary critics praised about them. We will discuss whether these films remain useful and relevant (in spite of a lack of recent discussion in some cases) or, whether they are products of their times. The films we will view for this course are: Son of the Bride (Argentina; week 1), Lagaan: Once Upon a Time in India (India; week 2), Gosford Park (US/UK; week 3), Elling (Norway; week 4), No Man’s Land (Bosnia and Herzegovina; week 5) and The Royal Tenenbaums (USA; week 6). In the last week we will review what we have learnt and Wickham will screen a film of his choice.

N.B. Last meeting 7 November. DVDs of films will be available to borrow from May 2019. Please make the effort to view films as early as possible as the DVDs may not be available in the week before each session. Please contact Steph Diggon (see page 11) to find out who is looking after the film DVDs.

7 meetings on Thursdays, starting 19 September  Fee: £63
Venue: Elizabeth House, Station Hill, Cookham SL6 9BS.  Time: 19:30 to 21:30
